

(Šobř L Y Y i
i Šobř L Y Y i
i Šobř L Y Y i

..

i

..

The University of Scranton celebrated its first year of being part of the Jesuit Universities Humanitarian Action Network (JHAN). Our mission was to make people aware of JHAN's presence on Scranton's campus and to educate students on the importance of humanitarian responses. One of the main goals of the spring 2017 semester was to promote JHAN as a club and to recruit members to continue our message in the upcoming year. To accomplish these objectives

Mike Allison (Coordinator) - Political Science

Will Cohen - Theology / Religious Studies

David Duac - History

Ann Feerey - Nursing

Anthony Fezola - Math

Teresa Grotano - English & Theatre

Ashley Hill - Graduate Assistant

Eta Mbugua - Education

Cathy Seymour - Campus Ministries' Center for Service & Social Justice

Jessica Nolan - Psychology

Katherine Stumpo - Chemistry

Health (2017-2019)

Literacy (2015-2017)

Torture (2014)

Sustainable Memory (2013)

Inequality (2012)

Bringing Justice after 9/11 (2011)

Peace and Reconciliation (2010)

Food (2009)

Immigration (2008)